Examples of good environmental practice within Faith & Spiritual Communities of Swansea

WELCOME

WELCOME stands for Welsh Environmental Link Creating Opportunities for Muslim Engagement.

This project aims to raise environmental awareness via lectures, discussions of Green issues, through sermons, seminars and is planning to run a climate change conference. It also actively encourages and initiates involvement in practical activities such as tree planting outings and conservational work.

Red Café

Although Red Café first opened in 2001 new developments seem to be the order of the day! Sustainable development has long been one of the focal points of the project.

Red Café has been included as one of the sites on Swansea's Sustainability Trail and has begun to host workshops on Recycling, Food Miles and Fair Trade, engaging groups as diverse as Key Stage One Primary school children and women from ethnic backgrounds who are a part of Women in Action. The recent creation of a bar constructed entirely from recycled materials is a popular talking point within the community café, providing an opportunity to raise issues of sustainability informally.

MOre Green

MOre Green 'Working together and supporting the Community'.

This is a community focused organisation, delivering a re-use - recycle project providing services such as collection of unwanted household furniture and other items and delivery of these to people in need. They run workshops at the MOre Green Community Shop, such as sewing, jewellery-making and art workshops. They also have a library in the Shop for the community to use. MOre Green runs a community allotment, encouraging active participation in activities.

The MOre Green Project is working with Arena Network towards Green Dragon Level 1 and 2, which is an Environmental Management Standard (EMS). Part of this involves consciously monitoring paper consumption and vehicle usage and minimising both where possible.

Heyokah

Since 2001 many Heyokah Centre activities have taken place at a richly diverse area of land at Coed Bwlardd, where buildings with low environmental impact are being created using timber harvested sustainably from the woodland. Open days and workshops are held throughout the year providing opportunities for people of all ages and backgrounds to learn new skills, enjoy the natural environment, and often meet new friends. Several gentle paths have been developed for community access and Forest School activities. Bushcraft Weekends are also being encouraged. This work with the land results in conserving and enhancing this area.

Cornerstone Church Centre

Cornerstone Church is actively engaging in sustainable practices within their community through the development of an environmental policy.

These guidelines are to help promote environmentally friendly work practices at Cornerstone Church Centre.

- Reduction of paper consumption where appropriate, printing on both sides of paper, use of scrap paper (supply in office) instead of post-its etc,
- Recycle paper rather than throw in bin (box in office).
- Monitors turned off when not in use.
- Lights turned off when not in use.
- Use of required amount of water when boiling kettle.

- Use of mugs and not disposable cups where possible.
- Recycle ink cartridges and toners.
- Purchasing of goods that don't cause harm to the environment and fair trade products where possible e.g. recycled ink cartridges, fairtrade tea and coffee etc, environmentally friendly cleaning products, low energy light bulbs
- Use of mailing preference service to stop unwanted junk mail faxes
- Monitor use of heating system to reduce waste
- Organising removal of recyclable products to Penlan tip recycling centre inc Cardboard & Plastics

Environmental Information and Resources

The Centre is open to the public Monday to Friday 10am to 4pm.

Another really good resource is The Swansea Sustainability Trail. The Trail includes more than 20 community projects across Swansea that demonstrate different aspects of sustainability in practical, interesting and inspiring ways. Group visits can be arranged by calling Sustainable Swansea 01792 480200. Other useful information can be found in the main Swansea Green Map, Sustainability Trail leaflet and Swansea Bay Alternative Travel Map. For an interactive version of the Green Map and download-loadable maps visit: www.sustainablewswansea.net, or pick up printed copies from the Environment Centre.

More about this Map...

What are Swansea's Faith & Spiritual Communities?

...Swansea and its surrounds have a rich diversity of Faith Communities including seven world religions: Bahá'í, Buddhist, Christian, Hindu, Jewish, Muslim and Sikh. Swansea also has a thriving contemporary spiritual community which includes eco-spirituality, paganism, druidry, wicca, psychic and spiritual centres, shamanism, esoteric study groups and many holistic practitioners and therapists. On this Map we have called these the Holistic Spiritual Community. In addition to these there are also other smaller religious & spiritual groups.

What is the Holistic Spiritual Community?

...The Holistic Spiritual Community is the name given to the growing contemporary movement of people who do not feel tied to one of the traditional faith communities but take a more generalised approach to spirituality. They respect and welcome diversity of belief, and respect the core values and inspiration of the traditional faiths. They also recognise the intimate interdependence between spirituality, environmentalism, citizenship and healthcare. For more information visit: www.spiritualswansea.org or www.f4hs.org.

Who created the Map?

...The Map is a partnership project between Interfaith Swansea and Sustainable Swansea. Interfaith Swansea is a grass roots movement of people from different Faith & Spiritual Communities who are working together to build bridges between local people of all faiths & beliefs, and none. For more information visit: www.interfaithswansea.org. Sustainable Swansea is a project that is led by Swansea Environmental Forum which is an association of organisations, groups and individuals working together to develop and coordinate action for the environment across Swansea. For more information visit: www.sustainablewswansea.net.

Why was the Map created?

...The Faith & Spiritual Communities of Swansea hold a common belief that we all share one planet and have a responsibility to care for, respect and protect it for ourselves and future generations. This Map is a symbolic representation of that shared belief and commitment. It has been two years in the making and was inspired by the local Swansea Green Map project which was produced to help people do their bit to make Swansea a really sustainable place to live, work, and visit. Through simple local actions done together as one human family we can make a huge difference both locally and globally.

How do you get on the Map?

...we hope that as many Faith & Spiritual Communities as possible will get onto this Map. All you need to do is sign up to a simple shared Commitment to Our Environment and to common Citizenship values. For more information see www.interfaithswansea.org. We can all make an individual difference to our environment, but united together in a common purpose we can have a much greater impact in Our Community.

Who funded the Map?

...the Map was funded by many hours of volunteer time and by grants received from Communities @One and the Faith Communities Capacity Building Fund.

Is there an On Line Version of the Map?

...this map is also available on line and will include many more places and be regularly updated. For more details visit: www.interfaithswansea.org, Green Map section.

Is there a complete list of Faith & Spiritual Communities in Swansea?

...there is a companion Directory to this Map which lists the contact details of all Faith & Spiritual Communities in Swansea. This Directory is an excellent resource and is available in book form and on line. For more information see www.interfaithswansea.org.

Finally a friendly Disclaimer!

...this Map has been produced in good faith as a reference and inspiration for people living in the Swansea area. If any of the details are incorrect we sincerely apologise and ask that you contact us so we can correct them for future editions. We hope that the Map will be useful to you, whether you want to find a green place of worship or learn a little about faith and sustainability. Our aim in producing this Map is to show that Faith & Spiritual Communities are united in their care and responsibility for the Planet. However, our inclusion of an organisation does not necessarily mean that we endorse the organisation.
